From The Principal

What a wonderful visit we had from the Fire Education Officers. The children were very excited to see how the truck worked and to spray the hose. School Camp forms will need to be back by next Friday 26th August. If you are unsure about anything on the forms please let me know.

The children have been quite unsettled this week and we have had to put a number of consequences for behaviour in place. Hopefully they will settle down especially with school camp looming on the horizon.

The working bee is this Sunday and will start at 8am. We need to clean out the P&C and grounds sheds and also get the chook run constructed. Many hands make light work and we would like to be done by 10 am if possible as I know that many of you have other events to attend as well.

Next Monday and Tuesday is our School Review. We welcome Allison Welch the panel chair and Sean Maher from Nambour State College. I look forward to hearing the results of the review and the suggestions that the panel will have to assist us to continue the great work here at Milman.

If all parents could be here at 8.30 am on Monday to meet with the panel, that would be fantastic.

Have a great weekend with your fantastic children.

Sonya’s Snapshots

Good morning to the Milman School Community,

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself and thank you for the warm welcome that I have received since arriving at the school. My name is Sonya Malkki and I have been teaching for many years in the Central Queensland area. I have worked at a few smaller schools (not as small as Milman, though!) and I am finding your school community to be one of warmth and care.

I am assisting in teaching the class in the areas of English, Maths and Geography. In English we are studying poetry. Exploring rhyming words and stories in poems is the focus this week. We are also currently studying how to care for places and distinguishing between natural, constructed and managed landscapes in our Geography lessons.

I am looking forward to attending the upcoming camp with you all! However, until then we have a lot of learning to do! Have a great week!

Sonya
